

STATE~BY~STATE
GARDENING

Louisiana GARDENER

LOUISIANA'S OWN GUIDE TO GREAT GARDENING & LANDSCAPING

ANYONE CAN COMPOST

And We'll Show You How!

HOW TO ENTICE BIRDS TO YOUR LOUISIANA GARDEN

THE TOP 10
HERBS FOR THE SOUTH

Also inside!

THE BEST VARIETIES FOR THE
LOUISIANA VEGETABLE GARDEN

A DO-IT-YOURSELF WATER
FEATURE IN 6 EASY STEPS

What's New & Exciting for 2009!

LOUISIANA HOT PLANTS IMPACT PLANTS FROM THE LAST 20 YEARS IN LOUISIANA HOME LANDSCAPES

louisianagardener.com

02

74470 96456 8

Features

12
Our Feathered Friends
Tips for attracting birds to your yard

17
New Plants for 2009

22
Chic Composting
Enclosed composters are must-have green accessories no matter where you live

28
6 Basic Steps to a Do-It-Yourself Water Feature

34
Detering Deer
Problem area solutions to keep these plant-eaters away

38
10 Most Popular Herbs
Details and growing information for your favorite herbs

41
Rediscover Heirloom Vegetables

Departments

6
Ask the Expert
Advice for gardeners all over Louisiana

8
Region Reports
Gardening information specifically for your area

26
How To Do That
Adding privacy and fragrance to your yard with a screen of green

36
Uninvited Guests
Some caterpillars have defenses you don't want to find out about

44
Garden Profile
The culinary gardens at White Oak

48
Hot Plants
Impact plants from the last 20 years in Louisiana home landscapes

54
Only in Louisiana
Winter wimps

On the Cover

17
New Plants for 2009
This month we take a look at some new varieties being offered up by growers for the home gardener

Photo courtesy of Terra Nova Nurseries, Inc.

Publisher
Steve Giddings
Associate Publisher/Managing Editor
Jennifer Estes
Art Director
Shane Darby
Graphic Artist
Melanie Koskie
National Ad Sales
Lisa Skains
Account Executive
Jim Vincent
Account Executive
Robert Sauber
Circulation Manager
Jessica Foreman
Distribution Manager
Maria Lucca
Receptionist
Lara Burns
Contributing Writers
Dana Dobias
Beth Erwin
Elena Fennell
Stuart Gauthier
Dan Gill
Steven Hotard
Gaye Rice Ingram
Cindy Jordan
Blake Layton
Jim Long
Roselie Overby
Allen Owings
Randy Parker
Barbara Pleasant
Carlos Smith
Mary K. Stickley

Louisiana Gardener
(ISSN-1525-4364)
Louisiana Gardener is published monthly except January, August and December by The Team Advertising and Publishing Inc. Copyright 2009 by The Team Advertising and Publishing Inc. All rights reserved. Reproduction in whole or parts is prohibited without permission from the publisher. The views and opinions of the writers are their own and do not necessarily reflect the magazine's management or owners. We will consider, but assume no responsibility for, unsolicited manuscripts, art and photographs. All such materials must be accompanied by a self-addressed, stamped envelope or it will not be returned.
Periodical Postage rate paid at Ruston, Louisiana Post Office and additional mailing offices.
POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Louisiana Gardener, PO Box 13070, Ruston LA 71273-3070.
Subscriptions: $24.95 for one year (nine issues)
Our address: State-by-State Gardening PO Box 13070 Ruston, LA 71273-3070 www.louisianagardener.com
Call us at (318) 255-3149 or toll-free at 1-888-265-3600
Fax us at (318) 251-8882 or email contact@statebystategardening.com

Nemesia Bedazzle™ 'Topaz' from Novalis® Plants that Work® By Color™.

Photo courtesy of Novalis® Plants that Work®.

Hot Plants for 2009

Exciting new plants for southern gardens

Story by Gaye Rice Ingram

Ask a southern gardener about his or her favorite garden plants and you are likely to hear the history of that Lady Banks rose that tumbles over the pergola (a great-grandmother brought it to Alabama from South Carolina in the 1840s) or the rain lilies that spring miraculously from the poor sandy soil at the foot of the back steps (the owner dug them from a family homeplace when she moved into her first home and they've been moving with her ever since). Every December my sister's Christmas cactus blooms its head off, just like its parent that grew next to our grandmother's front door, a plant her mother had brought from Tennessee. Written in careful script across the bottom of an early photograph is not their names, but "The Japonica." An offspring of that Camellia japonica blooms faithfully in my garden today and accounts for the others that fill the garden's winters with bloom.

Like southerners in general, southern gardeners care deeply about their pasts. They preserve and nurture the old garden plants that have people and places attached to them and that have stood the tests of time.

On the other hand, no one loves new plants more than southern gardeners. Faced with long hot summers, mildew and blackspot, bugs and pests beyond number, southern gardeners are always on the lookout for improved varieties of old favorites or new plants that will add a little no-hassle pizzazz to the coming year. From the many fine introductions to the horticultural trade in 2009, we've selected a group we believe readers will find particularly useful in a year when gardeners are demanding more value for their plant dollars.

While we are thinking of shade plants, Terra Nova Nurseries this year is introducing two dramatic new varieties – the tropical begonia, ‘Curly Fireflush’™ begonia and a much-improved pulmonaria, ‘Silver Bouquet’™ pulmonaria. A spiraled design highlights ‘Curly Fireflush’™ and a red edge and center contrasts with the deep-green leaves. It thrives in humidity, and a single plant placed among ferns creates instant drama. Hardy in Zones 11-13, ‘Curly Fireflush’™ has a mounding habit that makes it a good summer bedding plant in most of the South, and the bright red coloration of emerging green leaves makes it a good container plant and mixer. In organic soil, it forms mounds of 25 inches. Imagine its picking up the color of a Japanese maple like ‘Fireglow’ (Acer palmatum ‘Fireglow’) or in a container with Festival Grass™ (Cordyline hybrida bansii x australis x pumillo), available from Tesselaar.

I think it’s hard to find a less-than-terrific pulmonaria. Despite warnings to the contrary, in my Zone 8 garden Pulmonaria longifolia ssp. grows disease-free and large, even when neglected in periods of drought. The mottled silver lance-shaped leaves shine and cool down summer heat and afford interesting contrast with hostas and other shade or part-shade garden plants. The pink and blue flowers that rise above the plants in early spring echo the color of flowering bulbs, roses, and perennials. The landscape value of this faithful plant extends to planting beneath high arching shrubs and in mixed borders, and it thrives in pots, where it can be easily root pruned. ‘Silver Bouquet’™ pulmonaria is an improved version of the species, bred for better markings, much larger flowers that turn from pink to blue, and more dramatic markings on its slightly shorter leaves that give the variety a more mounding habit. It also has increased mildew resistance.

Begonia ‘Curly Fireflush’

Pulmonaria ‘Silver Bouquet’

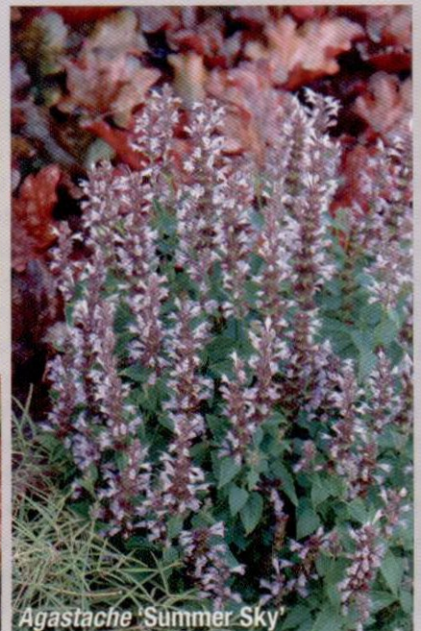

Other new plants from Terra Nova for 2009

Heuchera ‘Plum Royale’

Tiarella ‘Mystic Mist’

Agastache ‘Summer Sky’

Echinacea ‘Tomato Soup’

Photos on this page courtesy of Terra Nova Nurseries, Inc.